

RACE THROUGH SPACE

EVENT OVERVIEW

Get ready to blast off as we take you on an out of this world journey, a Race Through Space. Enter your virtual meeting to be greeted by the Commander of the mission who will talk you through the steps you must make to travel through our solar system from Mercury all the way to Neptune.

WHAT HAPPENS ON THE DAY?

Each person taking part in the activity will receive a link via email to a meeting on Zoom (or other online platform). Once logged on, we will allocate people into their teams and brief the group on the activity. Answering an array of space themed questions and completing a variety of challenges is the only way you will complete your mission. Points will be awarded for completing each planet's challenges, only then can you continue to orbit and move on to the next planet. Do you have what it takes to be the next Artemis Team of Astronauts? Let's find out just how much intelligent life is out there. Coming back down to Earth after your Race Through Space, that will be the challenging part.

Duration: 60 minutes
