Combating Ioneliness

Keeping teams connected

Decision making under pressure

Collaboration

The aim of the game is simple ... Score as many points as possible before you run out of time! Working in remote teams, you will need to decide upon the best answer to each question to win maximum points. Playing from any location including home, participants will use their own devices to answer questions and complete challenges.

Team strategy is the key to winning this challenge; players must communicate and work with the other remote players in order to progress. All whilst racing against the ticking clock!

THE BRIEFING

We'll brief you as one large group

Then split you into smaller, more manageable teams.

THE AIM OF THE GAME

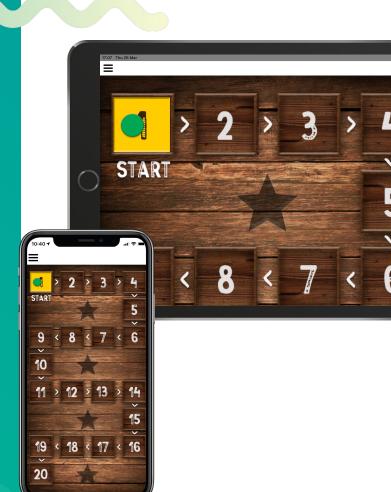

Starting on square one, teams must work together to complete tasks using their own devices.

As teams work their way through the challenges, they'll progress to the next square. There's a huge variety of content to keep teams engaged and a live scoreboard will keep the momentum going and allow participants to check progress,

The aim of the game is simple; complete as many challenges as possible within the given time to score the highest points and be crowned the winners!

THINGS TO CONSIDER

To make the most out of your remote experience, make sure you have access to the following:

- A good internet connection
- A smartphone with the 'Mobile Adventures' app downloaded (Android or iOS)
- A laptop or device with sound and a camera in order to join a video conference. Our platform of choice is Zoom* which we set up for you using our account details. The benefits of Zoom is that is allows us to split your group into smaller teams, each in its own breakout room, allowing teams to collaborate. See why we use Zoom.

*We have some clients who do not allow the use of Zoom. That's fine - just let us know as we have delivered these events in Webex, Google Hangouts, BlueJeans and Microsoft Teams. It just requires us to deliver the event in a slightly different way - watch this.

"We loved the activity - thank you so much for sharing the experience with us!! It was so well thought out and gave opportunities for engagement with all members of the team. It definitely helped to bring us closer together as a team during this difficult time and offered the perfect balance of social interaction alongside the team building elements. Our host, Paul, was really professional and the team found his presentation clear and engaging as well as enjoying his support and encouragement throughout the activity."
